SPECIAL NOTICE.

THE GOLDSMITHS' ALLIANCE, Limited (A. B. Savory & Sons), Established in 1751,

Late of 11 and 12, Cornhill, E.C., is transferred to

THE GOLDSMITHS & SILVERSMITHS COMPANY, Ltd.

The Business of the Incorporated Goldsmiths Realization Company is also incorporated with that of

The Times.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, of 112 Regent Street, have absorbed the whole of the business of the Goldsmiths' Alliance, Limited, of Cornhill, which has been established for over 150 years, and of which Sir Joseph Savory, Bart., M.P., late Lord Mayor of London, was the Managing Director, the name of "Savory" having been identified with the firm for over 100 years.

The Financial News.—Amalgamation is the order of the day, and this not alone in Banking circles, where the absorption of one bank after another by kindred institutions has been of frequent occurrence, but the same rule has applied to industrial and trading concerns. The transfer of the business of the Goldsmiths' Alliance, established in the heart of the City of London for 150 years, and identified with the name of the Savory family all that time, has been completed, the transferees being the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, of Regent Street. The managers of this Company, if they cannot boast of the hoary honours of the large firms which they have successively absorbed, can with justice claim that they have introduced a life and vigour which, before the establishment of their business some twelve years ago, were wanting. The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company has taken a leading and a commanding position in the trade.

The Queen.—The absorption of the Goldsmiths' Alliance, of Cornhill, a business established for 150 years, by the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, is a further proof that houses of the old-fashioned style cannot any longer compete with the push and energy of younger concerns, which have the advantage of improved art education and advanced modern ideas. The great business which they have acquired has been transferred to their Show Rooms at 112 Regent Street. Sir Joseph Savory, Bart., M.P., was the last managing director of the Goldsmiths' Alliance, the name of "Savory" having been identified with the firm for over 100 years.

The Lady's Pictorial.—It is perfectly plain that the old plodding style of business in London is as dead as the Pharaohs. The latest example of this is to be found in the fact that the well-known Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, of 112 Regent Street, have absorbed the whole of the business of the Goldsmiths' Alliance, Limited, of Cornhill, which has been established a hundred and fifty years, and of which Sir Joseph Savory, Bart., M.P., late Lord Mayor of London, was Managing Director. The strides made by the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company have been rapid and enormous. Their establishment in Regent Street forms a familiar landmark in the great sea of London life.

The Gentlewoman.—Another proof of the impossibility of old-fashioned houses being able to compete with the modern system of conducting business has been presented to us in the fact that the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, of 112 Regent Street, have absorbed the whole of the business of the Goldsmiths' Alliance, Limited, of Cornhill, which has been established for over 150 years, and of which Sir Joseph Savory, Bart., M.P. (N. Westmorland), was the Managing Director, the name of "Savory" having been identified with the firm for over 100 years. The history of commerce will scarcely produce a parallel to the remarkable progress and development of the business of the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company.

Horological Journal.—Seldom has a business flourished in so short a time and to the same extent in our trade as the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, of Regent Street. The premises, arrangements, stock, and management are a credit to the proprietors and to the trade, and the skill displayed in selecting and producing stock shows a complete grasp of what is necessary for success in the modern jewellery business. The Company have incorporated with their own the business of the Goldsmiths' Alliance, late of Cornhill, though we fancy they must have taken the wind out of its sails previously. Within a comparatively recent period they have built up an immense business, and have a monopoly of the West-end trade.

PRESS NOTICES.

THE TIMES.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company's collection of Jewels and Silver Plate, the moderate prices of which, combined with admirable taste and high quality, defies competition and deserves attentive examination.

THE FINANCIAL NEWS.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company have taken the leading position in the Trade, and their great success and increasing business in all parts of the world is attributable to the admirable principles upon which their business is conducted.

THE ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company supply the public direct at Manufacturers' cash prices, thereby dispensing with the middleman and saving Purchasers the numerous intermediate profits usually obtained. The display of Jewellery is not to be surpassed for variety, novelty, and beauty anywhere. Excellent taste and the most skilled workmanship mark all their productions.

THE QUEEN.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company have long been famous for the splendid assortment of artistic Jewellery they have on view at their spacious Show Rooms. All these treasures are freely shown to visitors simply as a matter of courtesy, and not necessarily with a view to business.

THE LADY'S PICTORIAL.—Ladies should try and visit the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company's Show Rooms personally, the freedom from importunity to purchase, the handsome and comfortable fitting-up of the place, and the unvarying courtesy exhibited there, making a stroll through the rooms a quite charming experience.

THE ILLUSTRATED SPORTING AND DRAMATIC NEWS.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company have an important display of Diamond Ornaments, Jewellery, and Silver Plate at the most moderate prices.

THE GENTLEWOMAN.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company seem to have excelled themselves in their gem-work. We have never seen diamonds more beautifully mounted, and, indeed, the stones were worthy of special manipulation. Their Illustrated Catalogue is a most dainty volume, and worthy of the highest praise.

THE WORLD.—The Goldsmiths and Silversmiths Company's establishment is always a fashionable place for Wedding Presents, and their Catalogue is a veritable work of art, being so beautifully bound you could keep it on a boudoir table.

THE OBSERVER.— . . . At the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company in Regent Street, where so many pretty things may be had at such temptingly moderate prices.

QUEEN.—It is worthy of note that the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company never repeat any of their most important designs in gem works, except, of course, by special request, a contingency that seldom arises, the usual desire being to possess some entirely new design.

LADY'S PICTORIAL.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company bring their good taste to bear on every detail of table appointments, the dishes and other items being as shapely as they are well made, whilst the prices are so extremely moderate.

ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS.—I should certainly recommend a personal visit of inspection to the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company's Show Rooms. Every article is marked in plain figures, which is a real comfort to anybody, especially so to Royal and titled patrons and others, who sometimes have reason to fear that their recognition by the salesman puts a large addition on concealed marked prices.

SHOW ROOMS—

112 REGENT STREET, LONDON, W.

THE

PRESS NOTICES.

LADIES' FIELD.—The Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, of 112 Regent Street, have recently opened a Show Room in their capacious premises solely for the sale and display of Antique Silver, and all goods on view can safely be relied upon as absolutely genuine, whilst the prices are exceedingly moderate.

ILLUSTRATED LONDON NEWS.—A perfectly charming exhibition of Antique Clocks is now open in the Rooms of those leading Jewellers, the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, Ltd. The Company have always pursued a liberal policy of inviting visitors to freely inspect the beautiful display of the Goldsmiths' and Silversmiths' Art without the least obligation to purchase being felt, and this invitation equally applies to the new exhibition.

QUEEN.—The interesting fact may not be generally known that the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company are the largest and most fastidious buyers in the world of diamonds. Of the workmanship no words of praise are too high, and always worthy of repetition is the fact that all the goods of the Company are marked in plain figures, and the freest, fullest inspection invited without any solicitation to buy.

LADY'S PICTORIAL.—The lady who quietly peruses the Company's comprehensive and admirably illustrated Catalogue in her own room, can revel in the contemplation of a collection of personal ornaments unsurpassed in Europe for charm and fine quality, and content herself with the fact that the prices are particularly moderate.

TRUTH.—We visited the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company's premises in Regent Street, and saw some lovely things in Jewellery. Their stock is all marked in plain figures—such a comfort to the buyers. We had one of their illustrated Catalogues, and with difficulty tore ourselves away from all the enchantment.

LADIES' FIELD.—In the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company's Show Rooms it is but idle to suppose that among the glittering treasures, where almost priceless stones flash back their lustre, and one's eyes ache with the glow and glitter, there is nothing that will meet the need of one who has only limited means; there are goods priced at the lowest figures imaginable, even in this palace of gems and silver plate, and you can wonder and examine whatever takes your fancy, without even being expected or asked to buy.

VANITY FAIR.—The greatest comfort in shopping is at the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company, Ltd., 112 Regent Street, W. There is none of the unuttered appeal to hurry up your business and go, that characterises so many establishments, none of that obvious and irritating, though unexpressed, desire on the part of the attendants to influence your choice and make you purchase something, no matter what, simply that the next comer may be despatched in a like manner.

TRUTH.—The workmanship in all the beautiful Diamond ornaments is so perfect, yet so minute, that one wonders how human fingers can accomplish it.

QUEEN. For the benefit of an immense country and foreign clientèle, the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Company have compiled a most exhaustive Illustrated Catalogue, which may be had by writing to 112 Regent Street.

CAUTION.

THE GOLDSMITHS & SILVERSMITHS COMPANY
caution Purchasers against cheaply-made Silver Spoons and Forks.

Many Buyers think, and it is represented by some Dealers, that all Spoons and Forks made of Silver are equally good. This, however, is not the case, as to be durable and continue to look well in wear, they must be thoroughly forged and hammered by hand, which is not done with the cheaper quality.

The Company keep in Stock only the highest quality, but can make to order the second quality at 6d. per ounce less than the prices on the opposite page; they do not, however, recommend it.

Estimates will be sent on application.
